

A champion for women and girls

The UK is a critical partner in advancing the rights and choices for women and girls globally. Contributions to core resources support programmes for women, girls and young people across UNFPA's operations in over 150 countries. Core funding also supports rights-based public policy changes to advance gender equality.

© UNFPA/Sufian Abdulmouty

UNFPA and the United Kingdom

About UNFPA

UNFPA, the United Nations Population Fund, is the sexual and reproductive health agency of the UN. It works to uphold the rights and choices of women, girls and young people across more than 150 countries. UNFPA aims to ensure that every pregnancy is wanted, every childbirth is safe, and every young person can fulfil their potential. It also helps governments plan for changing demographics, to build inclusive and resilient societies.

All UNFPA funding is voluntary – we rely on governments and other partners to support our programmes.

Read more about the United Kingdom and UNFPA engagement on UNFPA's website:

A partnership for women and girls

Thanks to UNFPA's strong partnership with the United Kingdom, more women and girls around the world are enjoying healthier, more fulfilled lives, free from violence.

See how the United Kingdom is making a difference.

© UNFPA DRC/Jonas Yunus

Our partnership

An ally in responding to humanitarian crises

As one of UNFPA's top humanitarian donors, the UK supports life-saving sexual and reproductive health services – including for safe births – and gender-based violence prevention, protection and response services to the most vulnerable women and girls in places such as Sudan, Gaza and Ukraine. UK support for the Humanitarian Thematic Fund ensures UNFPA can respond to emerging crises and reach those most in need.

A leading partner in global health

As the lead donor to UNFPA's Supplies Partnership programme, the UK has helped save the lives of thousands of mothers and newborns. This support provides critical maternal health medicines in many of the world's lowest income countries. The UK's investment is also propelling a shift towards sustainable domestic financing for reproductive health commodities.

Results for resources in 2025

5,700

Maternal deaths averted

2,551,900

Unintended pregnancies prevented

782,200

Unsafe abortions prevented

6,272,000

Women and young people reached with integrated sexual and reproductive health services

774,300

Sexually transmitted infections prevented by provision of female and male condoms

11,044,800

Individuals and their partners provided with a full year of contraceptive protection

2,100

Women and girls living with obstetric fistula received treatment

39,000

Girls saved from female genital mutilation

1,744,700

Marginalized girls reached by life skills programmes

17,800

HIV infections prevented by providing female and male condoms

Key results are illustrative only and reflect a calculation based on the donor's total contribution proportionally to UNFPA's overall results. While a selection of results are included, the support from our partners enables UNFPA to uphold the rights and choices of women, girls and young people across more than 150 countries, meet immediate needs, pursue promising innovations, bridge funding gaps and seed broader investments.