

OUR PARTNERSHIP

A partner at the core

Through flexible core support to UNFPA, Australia ensures we are able to promote international norms and standards, plan programmes and deliver comprehensive sexual and reproductive health services. Australia is committed to advancing and upholding the rights of women and girls through initiatives ranging from women's leadership, economic empowerment, sexual and reproductive health, and ending gender-based violence, with a strong focus on the Indo-Pacific region.

A transformative partnership

In the Pacific, Australia is supporting the Transformative Agenda, aimed at expanding quality sexual and reproductive health services, with an emphasis on family planning. Australia is a partner on the kNOwVAWdata initiative, which strengthens data collection and utilization to address violence against women, and on the Asia Pacific Regional Prepositioning Initiative, which aims to enhance preparedness for, and resilience to humanitarian emergencies.

A partner in times of crisis

In the onset of a crisis, UNFPA and Australia collaborate to provide life-saving assistance to the most vulnerable women and girls. Through flexible humanitarian support, Australia enables the delivery of sexual and reproductive health services and gender-based violence prevention and response at health facilities.

ABOUT UNFPA

UNFPA is the United Nations sexual and reproductive health agency. Our mission is to deliver a world where every pregnancy is wanted, every childbirth is safe and every young person's potential is fulfilled.

All UNFPA funding is voluntary – we rely on governments and other partners to support our programmes.

Our three transformative results:

end preventable maternal deaths

end the unmet need for family planning

end gender-based violence and all harmful practices
